Greenslopes Private Hospital

Queensland

Greenslopes Private Hospital has announced a major $72 million expansion and re-development project to continue delivering the best possible health care treatments and outcomes for patients.

Among the largest re-developments of the 78-year-old hospital site, the expansion includes a new three-story infill building to cater for future growth in theatre cases, day surgery procedures and expanded intensive care unit (ICU) capacity and the management of complex cases within the intensive care unit.

The expansion will also see the construction of a second building fitted out with 64 private en-suite rooms over two levels, which will be built on the southern side of the Ramsay Health Care owned, Greenslopes Private Hospital site.

The existing emergency department will also be refurbished to include seven new bays to give patients more space and privacy. There will also be room for medical imaging services.
